Since the original acknowledgement of May, 2004 many other sources have surfaced including numerous relatives as well as books written by German authors with the intent of recording the rich Jewish history of various German towns. The internet has become an invaluable source in discovering and making connection with members of the Reinsberg Family Tree. I am grateful to all of you who have led to the expansion of our Tree and with whom I have become friends.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements and Notes ..... i.

First through Tenth Generations .....1.

Endnotes (Sources) .....119.

Index of Individuals by Generation .....129.

Alphabetical Index of Individuals .....167.*

Place List.....251.

Additions and Errata.....295.

* In general, the Alphabetical Index identifies the first instance of the appearance of an individual in the First through Tenth Generations. A "+" sign next to the number prefixing each person indicates the individual appears later in the document along with additional information (e.g., spouse, children, etc.). A "+" individual can be found by scanning through the document to his/her prefix number.

NOTE: If an individual, listed as a child of parents who are in, e.g., Generation Three, does not have a spouse or offspring, that individual will not be listed in his/her appropriate generation, e.g., Generation Four. Consequently, a cascading list of individuals by generation is provided following the endnotes.

NOTE: Some late additions to the 2008 update do not have prefix numbers (e.g., Fanni Eichengrün on page 17) Furthermore, late additions (individuals) inserted into the main document (First through Tenth Generations and Additions and Errata) do not in all cases appear in the indexes (Individuals by Generation, Alphabetical Index, Place List).

Descendants of Simon [father of Raphael Simon Reinsberg]

FIRST GENERATION

1. Simon [father of Raphael Simon Reinsberg].[1]

Simon [father of Raphael Simon Reinsberg] had the following child:

+2 i. Raphael Simon Reinsberg.[1]

SECOND GENERATION

2. Raphael Simon Reinsberg[2] was born on 1 Sep 1737 in Helminghausen.[3,4] Source [RRRC][1] identifies Raphael Simon's date of birth as 1724 in Helminghausen, County Brilon. He died of senility (Altersschwäche) on 10 Jan 1830 in Madfeld, Germany.[3,5] Source [RRRC][1] identifies Raphael Simon's date of death as 1817 in Madfeld, Germany. He resided in and was buried in Madfeld.[1] Source [RRRC][1] (Harry Reinsberg: translator) states: "Up until 1813 the Jews of Westphalia took the name of their father as the family name. By edict of King Jerome (brother of Napoleon) permanent family names were taken. At that time Raphael changed his name from Raphael son of Simon to Raphael Reinsberg. His children also took this family name." The date provided by source [RRRC][1] is likely in error. On page 1 of the book Wittgenstein: A Life by Brian McGuinness, it states "...the edict of Jerome Bonaparte that every Jew must take a family name has seemed to place the event [referring to a family name in the book] in 1808." Furthermore, on the website Wikipedia under the topic "Jewish names" it states that "Napoleon also, in a decree of July 20, 1808, insisted upon the Jews adopting fixed names." [Source: L'Univers Israélite, l vii. 472., The Jewish Encyclopedia] A facsimile of an original document obtained by Joseph Zur, shows the name Salomon Reinsberger (sic.) from Vasbeck and is dated November 11, 1812. In source [JLA,etc.], p. 196 (footnoted Vgl. Staatsarchiv Münster, Herzogtum Westfalen Landstände, Akte Nr. 3172, S. 118 ff.), the following appears: "Raphael Reinsberg," geb, 1737, verstarb im Jahre 1830 in Madfeld. Wo er geboren wurde, mit wem er verheiratet war und wieviele Kinder er hatte; auf all diese Fragen gibt es noch keine Antwort. Sicher ist, dass er einen Sohn namens "Simon" hatte, 1769 geboren. Im Jahre 1801, vor der Annahme des Familiennamens, hiess dieser mit vollständigem Namen "Simon Raffel." [Raphael Reinsberg, was born in 1737, died in year 1830 in Madfeld. Where he was born, with whom he married and had children; on all these questions there is yet no answer. It is certain that he had a son by the name of "Simon," born in 1769. In the year 1801, before the acceptance of the surname, Simon was named with the complete name "Simon Raffel."] Source [RRRC][1] indicates that Raphael had 2 sons and 3 daughters. The oldest was Simon (b.1770) who inherited the home in Madfeld. The second son was Jakob who settled in Vasbeck. (Nothing else relating to Jakob is mentioned in the [RRRC][1] chronicle.) The first daughter was Gutja (married to Rosenbaum) in Heddinghausen (buried here). The second daughter was married to Fischel. She died in Greishagen (in county Brilon). The third daughter (of Raphael Simon Reinsberg) was Jettchen,,,,, Source [RRRC][1] also states "Die vierte Tochter von Raphael Simon Reinsberg, Esther, war mit Weitzenkorn in Leitmar bei Marsberg, Kreis Brilon verheiratet. Esther hat Soehne und Tochter hinterlassen..." Josef Zur translates this to: "The fourth daughter of Raphael Simon Reinsberg, Esther, was married to Weitzenkorn in Leitmar near Marsberg, Regional Council Brilon. She had sons and daughters...." The information emanating from source [RRRC][1] is in all likelihood in error in light of other evidence. In source [TBOG][18] Joseph Zur states: "Robert Raphael Reinsberg mentions as the son of Raphael .... Jakob, and [his] son is Philipp Reinsberg. Actually this Philipp, born in 1818 is the oldest son of Salomon .... in Fassbeck. Gudele Rosenbaum née Reinsberg .... is according to the testament of Simon Reinsberg, a daughter of his brother Salomon Reinsberg in Fassbeck. The wife of Levy Fischel in Giershagen was not 'Bertha, the third daughter of Raphael Simon Reinsberg' as stated erroneously by Robert Raphael R., but Jette Fischel née Reinsberg. another daughter of Salomon Reinsberg in Fassbeck, according to the testament of her uncle Simon Reinsberg and the registers in Marsberg and in Detmold." In source [JLA, etc.][6] on page 196, is reprinted a testament of Simon Raphael Reinsberg [eldest son of Raphael) dated December 4, 1839 and signed, stating that his brother Salomon settled in Vassbeck: "b, an die kinder meines verstorbenen Bruders Salomon Reinsberg in Fassbeck in Waldeckischen namentlich Philipp, Simon, Jette dermalige Ehefrau des Levi Fischel zu Giershagen, Gudel verehelichte Meir Rosenbaum zu Heddinghausen, sodann Hanne, Röschen und Behle, 100 Thaler Prc. c, an meine Schwester Hanne Reinsberg Wittwe des Selig Landauer zu Allendorf bei Battenberg im Grossherzogthum Hessen einhundert Thaler Pr courant und d, an meine Schwester die Ehefrau Bendix Eichengrün eine geborene Röschen Reinsberg zu Beringhausen fünfzig Thaler Prc..." Translated: "b, to which children of my deceased brother Salomon Reinsberg in Fassbeck in Waldeck namely Philipp, Simon, Jette, wife of the Levi Fischel to Giershagen, Gudel married to Meir Rosenbaum in Heddinghausen, then Hanne, Röschen

and Behle, 100 Thaler Prc. c, to my sister Hanne Reinsberg wife of Selig Landauer residing in Allendorf in Battenberg in the Grossherzogthum Hesse one hundred Thaler Prcourant and d, to my sister Röschen Reinsberg, the wife of Bendix Eichengrün from Beringhausen füfzig Thaler Prc..."

He was married to Henriette Reinsberg (née?). Henriette Reinsberg (née?)[7] was known also as Jette.[7] Raphael Simon Reinsberg and Henriette Reinsberg (née?) had the following children:

+3 i. Simon Raphael Reinsberg.[7]
+4 ii. Salomon Raphael Reinsberg.[7]
+5 iii. Rosa Reinsberg.[7]
+6 iv. Hanne Reinsberg.[7]

THIRD GENERATION

3. Simon Raphael Reinsberg[1,8] was born on 9 Dec 1769 in Madfeld, Germany.[1] Source [RRRC][1] indicates the date of birth as December 20, 1770 [" Simon Raphael Reinsberg, unseres Vaters Onkel und Adoptivvater, geboren zu Madfeld im Jahre 5530 -1770 am 10 kislev - 20. ten Dezember ----"]. Joseph Zur notes: "Now the year 5530 starts in October 1769. The tenth of Kislev is absolutely in December 1769. I assumed the Hebrew Date as correct and translated it as December 9, 1769. However since the Jewish day starts with sunset and the Gregorian, Christian day starts at midnight, there can be a discrepancy of one day in the calendar."

He died on 21 Mar 1856 in Madfeld, Germany.[1,9] He was buried in Madfeld Cemetery.[1] He was a Merchant in Madfeld.[10] He may have been known also as Simon Raffel (Simon Raphael).[7] [[Footnoted in [JLAetc.] to Vgl. Staatsarchiv Münster, Herzogtum Westfalen Landstände, Akte Nr. 3172, S. 118 ff.]] He was given the family home.[1]

He was married to Sarah Schönewald [daughter of Jakob Schönewald and Rachel Schönewald (née?)].[1] They had no children, but for Raphael Robert's father, Calmon, by adoption. Sarah Schönewald was born in 1777 in Madfeld, Germany.[1,11] She died on 29 Jan 1856 in Madfeld, Germany.[1,12] She may have been known also as Ester, Esther, or Esther Sarah.[13] Simon Raffel (Simon Raphael) Reinsberg and Sarah Schönewald adopted the following child:

+7 i. Calmon Reinsberg.[1,3]

4. Salomon Raphael Reinsberg[7,8] was born circa 1775 in Madfeld.[10,14] [[A document, dated Vasbeck, 31 March 1826, from the Marburg archives shows Salomon's age as 57, which would put the year of his birth at 1769. Since his brother Simon was born in December, 1769 and since Simon inherited the family home, I, [JS][57], can only assume (if the age of 57 is correct along with other dates) that Simon and Salomon were twins, with Simon, the first born.]] He died on 17 Apr 1838 in Vasbeck, Germany.[8,15] He was a Merchant in Vasbeck.[10] Vasbeck is near Cassel which was in the Grand Duchy of Waldeck. The Kingdom of Westphalia was created in August, 1807 by Napoleonic decree with the capital at Cassel. Madfeld and Vasbeck are small villages that are in close proximity. He may have been known also as Salomon Raffel (Salomon Raphael).[10]

After his marriage to Emma Schönstadt (see next entry), he was married to Frummet (Fanni) Katz (daughter of Jacob Katz and Behle Jacob). Frummet (Fanni) Katz was born circa 1786 in Marsberg, Germany.[388] She died on 25 Jul 1850 in Vasbeck, Germany.[16] Salomon Reinsberg and Frummet (Fanni) Katz had the following children:

+8 i. Rosa Reinsberg.
9 ii. Simon Reinsberg[7] was born in 1822 in Vasbeck, Germany. [Archival document from Marburg dated Vasbeck, 31, March, 1826.][388] He died on 13 Apr 1846 in Vasbeck, Germany.[15] He was a Merchant in Vasbeck, Germany.[10]
10 iii. Jacob Reinsberg was born about 1824. [The archival document from Marburg dated Vasbeck 31,

March, 1826 shows that Jacob was born in Vasbeck and was 1 year old at the date of the document.]

+11 iv. Bertha Reinsberg.

He was married to Emma Schönstadt (daughter of Abraham Schönstadt).[8,17] There appears, however, to be some question regarding the person who was the wife of Salomon Reinsberg. In source [VSR36][17], Simon, the grandson of Salomon, in reporting the death of his father, Philipp, names Emma Reinsberg née Schönstadt as the mother of Philipp and wife of Salomon. Josef Zur states that sources [CAHJ][8], [CAHJ(2)][15], and [BANKE - see Rosette Reinsberg] identify a Frummet Reinsberg née Katz, (born: about 1784 in Obermarsberg, died: July 25, 1850 in Vasbeck), daughter of Jacob and Behle Katz from Obermarsberg, as the wife of Salomon Reinsberg. Salomon Reinsberg and Emma Schönstadt had the following children: [Note: the Family Origins program has reversed the order of the marriages of Salomon Reinsberg, consequently the birth order of Salomon's children, and, in turn, the Family Origins progam numerical ordering of the descendents. Since this has little effect on the data, per se, and would be exceedingly difficult to rectify, it has been left as such. In actuality, the following children are older than Salomon's children (with Frummet) listed above.]

+12 i. Henriette Reinsberg.
+13 ii. Julie Reinsberg.
+14 iii. Hanne Reinsberg.
+15 iv. Philipp Reinsberg.

5. Rosa Reinsberg[7] was born circa 1780.[18] She died on 23 Apr 1855 in Beringhausen, Germany.[3] In [TBOGre][19] the date is shown as 1853. She resided Beringhausen.[3] She was known also as Röschen.[7]

She was married to Bendix Moyses Eichengrün (son of Moyses Simon Eichelgrün and Taube Moyses Eichelgrün [née ?]).[7] Bendix Moyses Eichengrün was born circa 1784 in Beringhausen, Germany.[18] He died on 20 Jan 1851 in Beringhausen.[19] He was a Merchant.[19] He was known also as Bendix Pinchas.[19] (Personal communication from Joseph Zur: Pinchas is the Hebrew origin of Bendix.) Rosa Reinsberg and Bendix Moyses Eichengrün had the following children:

+16 i. Simon Bendix Eichengrün.[19]
17 ii. Moyses Eichengrün was born on 3 Mar 1809 in Beringhausen, Germany.[20] He died on 15 Feb 1834 in Beringhausen.[3]
+18 iii. Henriette Eichengrün.[19]
19 iv. Taube Eichengrün was born on 8 Mar 1816 in Beringhausen, Germany.[19] She died on 9 Sep 1873 in Beringhausen.[19]
+20 v. Jakob Eichengrün.[19]
21 vi. Hanna Eichengrün was born in 1821 in Beringhausen, Germany.[19] She died on 22 Jan 1843 in Rhoden, Germany.[19]
+22 vii. Abraham Eichengrün.[19]

6. Hanne Reinsberg[7] died in Allendorf, Germany.[10] She resided in Allendorf near Battenberg.[10]

She was married to Selig Landauer.[7]

FOURTH GENERATION

7. Calmon Reinsberg was born [or adopted] on 1 May 1807 in Madfeld.[1] Josef Zur translates from Robert Raphael Reinsberg, son of Calman, the following: "Jettchen, the oldest daughter of Raphael Simon Reinsberg, was the mother of my father. She died shortly after the birth of my father (already a widow). My father was thereafter adopted by his uncle, Simon Raphael Reinsberg and received the family name of the Reinsberg family. I have no important knowledge concerning my grandmother, mother of my father. She was placed to her last rest in Padberg, Regional Council Brilon."* Zur in The Beauty of Generations: Descendants of Raphael Reinsberg and Henriette Reinsberg continues: "It is an assumption of Josef Zur that, however reliable the registers of Robert Raphael Reinsberg are in general, they are not correct in respect to his father's natural mother, her brothers and sisters, children of Raphael Simon Reinsberg. (He mentions his .... father Simon, [Simon's siblings] Gudele Rosenbaum née Reinsberg in Heddinghausen, ..., Esther Weitzenkorn née Reinsberg in Leitmar). From the testatment of Calman Reinsberg's adopting father we learn that the children of Raphael Reinsberg are: 1. Simon Reinsberg, 2. Salomon Reinsberg. 3. Rosa Eichengrün née Reinsberg 4. Hanne Landauer née Reinsberg. ... In addition, Robert Raphael Reinsberg did not know the name of his great grandmother, wife of Raphael Simon Reinsberg. From the Central Archives of the History of the Jewish People in Jerusalem ....we learn that Raphael Simon Reinsberg's wife was Jette Reinsberg. It is very unlikely that a Jewish mother ....called her daughter with her own name. It seems that the adopting parents gave their adopted child some kind of blurred information concerning his natural mother and her relatives. The inaccurate information might have been passed to the next generation (Robert Raphael Reinsberg) in a still more inaccurate way. Who was the natural mother of the adopted Calman Reinsberg? It is impossible to provide an exact, proven answer to this question. However, it is the assumption of Josef Zur that Calman's mother might have been Brendel Moyses (Eichelgrün) from Beringhausen. Brendel was a sister of Simon, son of Moyses (Eichelgrün), and of Bendix Moyses Eichelgrün, a sister-in-law of Rosa Röschen Eichengrün née Reinsberg. She was born about 1762 in Beringhausen and died on July 24, 1806. In the Beringhausen Registers [TBR/jz][20] ... there is a quite uncommon remark attached to her death registration: ....'On July 24 (1806) died Brendel Moyses, who had been shamefully abandoned by her husband. About 45 years old. She was the Daughter of Moschen (Moyses Simon Eichelgrün).' My late mother and my aunts .... knew that the mother of Calman had committed suicide, shortly after her son was born, by drowning herself in the riverlet, the Hoppeke, flowing through the village Beringhausen. If this assumption is correct then May 1, 1807 is not the date of birth of Calman but perhaps the date of his adoption by the childless couple Simon and Ester Reinsberg. Brendel's sister in law, Röschen Eichengrün née Reinsberg, a sister of the adopting father, was likely active in bringing about the act of adoption."

> * "In addition: The Reinsberg family originated in Madfeld. If Calman's mother had been a daughter of Raphael Simon Reinsberg, why was she buried in the Jewish cemetery above Beringhausen and below Padberg?"[18]
>  "Explanation: In [TBR/jz][20]...the family name is spelled Eichelgrün from 1809 onwards. For instance: Birth registrations 1. March 3, 1809 Moyses Eichelgrün son of Eichelgrün Pinnes and Röchen Reinsberg... The name Eichengrün appeared as such in the Beringhausen and Marsberg records in the second quarter of the 19th century. However, part of the family remained with the family name Eichelgrün, especially those who were descendants of Raphael Moyses Eichelgrün in Tangermünde."

Calmon Reinsberg died on 20 Jan 1888 in Niedermarsberg, Germany.[1,3,21] Source [TBOGmb][78] shows date of death as January 26, 1888. He was buried in Marsberg, Germany (Jewish Cemetery).[1] He was a Merchant in Madfeld.[10] He may have been known also as Calmon Aaron,[1] Calmon Kalonimus[1], Kalman,[22] or Calmen.[23] In source [RRRC][1] (Harry Reinsberg: translator), Calman is identified as son of Aaron (?). Source [RRRC][1] continues: "Calmon lived in Brilon with Raphael Robert until Raphael Robert settled in Ostente [Belgium]. He then moved in with Raphael Robert's brother Susmann to Marzberg." In [RRRC],[1] the third daughter (of Raphael Simon Reinsberg] was Jettchen (the mother of Raphael Robert's father, Calmon). She became a widow before the birth of Calman and she died in Beringhausen and is buried in Padberg. Calman, when he became an orphan, was adopted by Simon Reinsberg. "Raphael Robert had to stay with Simon to the end (near his death) because he carried his father's name, then he let him go with blessings."

He was married to Brendel Reichhardt (daughter of Kalmon Reichhardt and Keiloh Schönewald) on 31 Aug 1836 in Madfeld, Germany.[1,18,24] Brendel Reichhardt was born in 1812 in Wolfhagen, Germany.[1] In source [TBOG][18] Zur states: "About six years after Calman had been adopted by Simon and Esther Reinsberg, a sister of the adopting mother, Keilo Reichhardt née Schönwald, gave birth to a daughter in Wolfhagen, who was named Brendel Reichhardt. It is likely to assume that she was named Brendel after Brendel Moyses who died tragically in Beringhausen in 1806 . Anyhow, 22 years later, Brendel Reichhardt became the wife of Calman Reinsberg..." [[Source [JLA, etc.][11] (p. 284) shows the date of birth as 1824 in Madfeld, and on p. 277 shows the date of birth as 1814 in Wolfshausen/Hessen.]] She died on 11 May 1851 in Madfeld, Germany.[1,25] Source [RRRC][1] states that Brendel died when Raphael Robert was 2 3/4 years old. She was buried in Madfeld, Germany (Jewish Cemetery).[1,26] She may have been known also as Brändel.[27] Her surname has the following alternative spellings: Reichard, Reichart, or Reichert.[28] Calmon Reinsberg and Brendel Reichhardt had the following children:

23 i. (infant) Reinsberg was stillborn on June 6 1837.[29]

+24 ii. Bertha Bella Reinsberg.[18]

25 iii. (infant) Reinsberg was stillborn on 28 Jul 1839 in Madfeld, Germany.[30]

26 iv. Sara Reinsberg was born on 24 Jul 1840 in Madfeld, Germany.[3] Source [JLA, etc.] indicates that she was born in Madfeld on July 21, 1840 (p. 267). She died on 12 Feb 1846 in Madfeld, Germany.[3,31]

+27 v. Henriette Reinsberg.[18]

+28 vi. Leiser Reinsberg.[18]

+29 vii. Robert Reinsberg.[18]

+30 viii. Susmann Reinsberg.[18]

8. Rosa Reinsberg[7] was born in 1820 or 1821.[32] Source [BANKE][21] shows she died at 70Y of age which would place her date of birth as 1820/21. It also states that Rosa was the widow of Levi Weitzenkorn and the daughter of Salomon Reinsberg and Fanni née Katz. She may have been known also as Rosette or Roschen.[7] In addition, the archival document from Marburg dated Vasbeck, 31 March, 1826[388] identifies Roschen as born in Vasbeck. She died on 8 Mar 1891 in Leitmar, Germany.[33]

She was married to Levi Weitzenkorn (son of Joseph Weitzenkorn and Nohra Levi) on 19 Jan 1850 in Canstein, Germany.[34,35] Levi Weitzenkorn was born in 1814 in Leitmar, Germany.[34,36] He died on 26 Feb 1885 in Leitmar, Germany.[36,37] He was buried in Heddinghausen, Germany.[36] He was a Painter/Dyer (Färber).[34,36] Rosa Reinsberg and Levi Weitzenkorn had the following children:

31 i. Minna Weitzenkorn was born on 22 Jul 1849 in Leitmar, Germany.[38] Source [SM/jz][34] shows the date of birth as July 20, 1848.

+32 ii. Fanny Weitzenkorn.[36]

33 iii. Jettchen Weitzenkorn was born on 13 Nov 1852 in Leitmar, Germany.[34,38] She died on 13 Jun 1855 in Leitmar, Germany.[34]

+34 iv. Bertha Weitzenkorn.[36]

35 v. Jenni Weitzenkorn was born on 20 Jun 1857 in Leitmar, Germany.[34,38]

+36 vi. Joseph Weitzenkorn.[36]

37 vii. Sali Weitzenkorn was born on 28 Apr 1861 in Leitmar, Germany.[34] Source [BANKE][38] shows the date of birth as April 4, 1961. Source [WFW][36] indicates he was born August 8, 1852. He died on 5 May 1861 in Leitmar, Germany.[34] He may have been known also as Salli.[10]

38 viii. Dora Weitzenkorn was born on 16 Dec 1863 in Leitmar, Germany.[36,38] Source [SM/jz][34] indicates she was born December 18, 1863.

11. Bertha Reinsberg[7] was born circa 1830.[34] She was known also as Behle.[7]

She was married to Levi Stein (son of Elias Stein and Dora Elsberg) on 7 Jul 1851.[34,35] Levi Stein was born circa 1823/24.[34] He was from Allagen, Germany.[34]

12. Henriette Reinsberg[7,34] was born about 1806.[10] In the archival document from Marburg, dated Vasbeck, 31 March 1826,[388] Jette's age is listed as 16 years 6 months, which would imply that her date of birth is September, 1809. In this document, she is shown as born in Marsberg. She died on 24 Feb 1860 in Giershagen, Germany.[10] She was known also as Jette.[7]

She was married to Levi Fischel (son of Michel Levi) on 19 Nov 1828.[3,34] Levi Fischel was born circa 1789 in Padberg, Germany.[10] He died on 24 Feb 1863 in Giershagen, Germany.[3,10] He was a Merchant in Giershagen, Germany.[3,10] Henriette Reinsberg and Levi Fischel had the following children:

+39 i. Rebecka Fischel.

40 ii. Bertha Fischel was born on 15 Oct 1829 in Giershagen, Germany.[3] She died on 29 Mar 1886 in Giershagen, Germany.[39] Source [JZ][16] mentions the year of death as 1885.

41 iii. Jetta Fischel was born on 11 Feb 1832 in Giershagen, Germany.[3]

+42 iv. Julie Fischel.

43 v. Johanna Fischel was born on 9 Mar 1837 in Giershagen, Germany.[3,34,38] She died on 23 Oct 1887 in Giershagen, Germany.[40]

44 vi. Clara Fischel was born on 9 Mar 1840 in Giershagen, Germany.[3,34,38] She died on 16 Oct 1877 in Giershagen, Germany.[41] She was known also as Flora Clara.[42]

45 vii. Roschen Fischel was born on 15 Sep 1842 in Giershagen, Germany.[34] Source [BANKEb][38] shows the birth date as December 18, 1842. She died on 7 Dec 1911 in Giershagen, Germany.[43] Source [TBOGrr][135] shows the place of death as Niedermarsberg, Germany. She was known also as Rosa.[42]

46 viii. Emilie Fischel was born on 20 Sep 1845 in Giershagen, Germany.[3,34,38]

47 ix. Sara Sarchen Fischel was born on 13 Dec 1848 in Heddinghausen, Germany.[34,38] Source [BANKEb][38] shows the birthplace as Giershagen, Germany.

48 x. Michel Fischel was born on 18 Sep 1851.[3]

13. Julie Reinsberg[7] was born in Apr 1812.[44] The archival document from Marburg, dated Vasbeck, 31 March, 1826,[388] lists Julie's (Julchen) age as 13 years 4 months which would imply her date of birth is in December, 1812. She is listed as born in Vasbeck. She died on 16 Oct 1887 in Heddinghausen, Germany.[44,45] She was buried in Heddinghausen, Germany.[44] She lived in Udorf at the time of her death.[46] She was known also as Gudel,[7] Gudele,[7] or Julchen.[42]

She was married to Meyer Rosenbaum (son of Heinemann Rosenbaum) on 18 Jun 1833.[34] Meyer Rosenbaum was born in Nov 1792.[44] He died on 27 Feb 1862 in Heddinghausen, Germany.[10,42] He was buried in Heddinghausen.[44] He was a Merchant.[10] He was known also as Meir.[10] Julie Reinsberg and Meyer Rosenbaum had the following children:

+49 i. Heinemann Rosenbaum.[34]

+50 ii. Raphael Rosenbaum.[34]

He and his wife, Hedwig, owned a textile house in Hemer.[216] Per source [JH][148], pp. 161-162, (translated by Bea Reynolds née Bensdorf): "The fate of the family Reinsberg is closely linked with that of the family Gottschalk...In 1907, the horse dealer Bernhard Gottschalk had an adjoining house built on his property for his daughter Hedwig and son-in-law Siegfried Reinsberg (Westiger Str. 12). Siegfried Reinsberg came from Vasbeck near Arolsen...The couple established the textile business of "Siblings Gottschalk" in this house. Son Erich was born in 1908 [sic], followed by twins Lotte and Liesel in 1913. The parents worked on the development of the business. The mother learned the millinery business, and the father helped out in the sewing room in addition to his duties as business manager. During the years 1907, 1908 and 1913 relatives Max Reinsberg, probably also Siegfried Mayer and Albert Meyer are mentioned as volunteers or employees. After the early death of the parents - the mother died in 1915, the father died as a soldier (storm-trooper) in 1916 at the eastern front in Galicia -, the unmarried sister of the mother, Ida Gottschalk, assumed care of the twins and the business. Erich was taken into the home of the sister of his father, Sophie Waldheim (née Reinsberg)...Ida Gottschalk, with the help of relatives, made sure the children received a good education; they attended the High School near the Steinert. They went to Iserlohn to attend religion class; and occasionally, the Rabbi also came to their house...Erich graduated in 1925 in Dortmund with studies in business, while Lotte and Liesel completed a two-year dressmaking apprenticeship in 1930...As a consequence of the world economic crisis, the esteemed manufacturing business came into financial difficulties and had to register for bankruptcy on November 17, 1932. It was taken over by Arthur and Margarethe Gottschalk...The young Reinsberg women went with their Aunt Ida in 1932 to Berlin where a brother of the father, Dr. Leopold Reinsberg lived. Erich was there already and had secured a position as a manager of a department store. When, as an alleged Communist, he was suspected and denounced, he was transferred to Hanover, and in 1933 moved to Amsterdam. Bringing his sisters there, he helped them find work as dressmakers....Lotte immigrated in August 1939 to Palestine and married Paul Cohen. In Amsterdam the same year Liesel married Klaus Neumann who was from Düsseldorf. In the night, SS people grabbed and deported the married couple as they tried to flee their house in Amsterdam. Ida Gottschalk also lost her life in a concentration camp."

211. Milton Reynolds was born on 10 Jul 1892 in Albert Lea, Minnesota.[223] From the Albert Lea Tribune (12-21-05) article: "One big Christmas Present with a Local Touch," By Ed Shannon -- ".....The man who achieved real success with the ball-point pen was born on July 10, 1892, in Albert Lea, the son of Simon and Rose (Vehon) Reinsberg. The home where he was born is still part of the local scenery on South Pearl Street. His father had a small manufacturing plant making farm equipment. The Reinsbergs and their six children moved to Quincy, Ill., about 1900. And sometime after they left Albert Lea, Milton changed his last name from Reinsberg to Reynolds. Part of the reason he once explained came about because of anti-German prejudice during World War I. By 1944 he was the owner and promoter of the Print-A-Sign Corp. and traveling through Central and South America. During a visit to a major department store in either Brazil or Argentina he happened to find a new novelty item called a ball-point pen. This soon became the basis for his real fortune. The orihinal (sic) concept for the present ball-point pen was patented by an American named John J. Loud in 1888. In 1938, two brothers in Hungary, Ladislao and Georg Biro, developed an improved version of the ball-point pen. When World War II started, the Biro brothers moved to Argentina and started to sell their revolutionary writing instruments. Reynolds took the Biro pen, combined its concept with the Loud patent and soon became involved in one of the most successful selling ventures in American history. In July 1945, he started the Reynolds International Pen Company. Within four months the firm sold 1,500,000 of the pens, and within six months he had 3,000 employees. These pens were considered to be the greatest innovation since the bread slicer and the popcorn popper. ...With a portion of the fortune made with the ball-point pen venture, he decided to buy a large airplane. After all, the super salesman happened to be a licensed pilot who had been involved with aviation since 1920 or so. And what he ended up with was a Douglas A26 twin-engine aircraft which was named the "Reynolds Bombshell" and labeled as the fastest private plane in the world. Now, what does a millionaire do with such a swift aircraft? For someone so interested in publicity, one sure answer was to fly the plane around the world and try to set a new speed and /or time record. In 1947, the record to beat was the one made by Howard Hughes in 1938. Hughes had flown 14,824 miles around the northern part of the globe in three days, 19 hours, and 14 minutes. The total flying time was 71 hours and seven minutes. The route taken by the Reynolds Bombshell totaled 19,899 miles. The total travel time involved was three days, six hours, and 55 1/2 minutes. The actual flying time was 62 hours and 46 1/2 minutes. Reynolds had broken Hughes' around-the-world record in all respects. This exploit resulted in worldwide publicity, congratulations at the White House for the three aviators from President Harry S. Truman, and a homecoming celebration for Reynolds in Albert Lea two months later. A ³Milton Reynolds

Day" in Albert Lea came on June 18, 1947, as a direct result of an article in a Chicago newspaper which identified this city as the birthplace of the then-famous aviator and extremely successful merchandiser of the ball-point pen." He died on 23 Jan 1976 in Chicago, Illinois.[55,224] He was a part owner and chairman of the board of Reynolds Printasign Company.[223] He was a collaborator in the "invention" of the Reynolds Ball Point Pen and was its distributor.[223] He established the Reynolds International Pen Company. The Reynolds Ball Point was the first mass marketed ball point pen in the United States. He was thereafter known as "Ball Point" Reynolds. He made a record breaking solo flight around the world in 1947 with pilot Bill Odom.[55] He was "the only one of the six [Simon] Reinsberg children who was not diabetic..."[223] He legally changed his original surname Reinsberg to Reynolds between 1926 and 1929.[223]

Source [HR][55] shows his birth year as 1905 and source [SSDI][196] shows the birth year as 1900. Source [MKM][324] states that: "My father's probable birthday was 1900. It isn't even really clear that Oct. 14 was his real birthday, but that's what was on the official documents.... The 1904 date probably has to do with shaving a few years off when working. We do know that he ran away from home and gymnasium to join the Belgian army (his family was living in Antwerp at the time) when the Germans invaded Belgium, and his mother interceded with the chief rabbi of Liege, a close contact, to have him returned. This would reinforce the 1900 birth date." His original surname was Król.[324] He was also called Hanoch, Chench, Heinrich, Henri, Генрык, and Henryk.[324] His family moved from Russian Poland to Antwerp, Belgium circa 1908-09, then to England circa 1917 and finally to the United States in 1921.[324] He died on 26 May 1978 in Ellenville, New York.[55,324] He was an Architect.[324] He amassed a collection of Nazi educational material and propaganda while serving in the Army Air Corps Intelligence in Europe during WWII which now forms the core of the Henry Kroul/Cragsmoor Archive of Nazi Culture and Propaganda at Hofstra University, Hempstead, New York.[324] Leni Jeanette Weitzenkorn and Henry Abraham Kroul had the following child:

Parents: Father: Innkeeper Max Rosenbaum , Udorf. Mother: Minna Kleinstrass, born in Bredenborn. The father died 1929, whereas the mother was deported and perished in the forced labor camp Zamosc close to Lublin. Ernst, the younger brother of Albert, was murdered after the Pogrom night of November 1938 in the concentration camp Buchenwald. His sister Hilde managed to escape to the USA. He visited after the elementary school the middle school in Brakel. It seems that at this time he lived with the Kleinstrass family from where his mother originated. Thereafter he came for one year to the KWG, to receive with the U II his middle matriculation (1924 - 1925). He then left for a practical occupation, it may be assumed in order to get a salesman's scholarship which led him to Hamm, where his uncle Dr. Josef Kleinstadt lived as a physician. Hereafter, during the years of crisis in the Weimar Republic, began the difficult search for a job and for a secure existence. This caused frequent change of places (Hamm, Udorf, Kassel, Udorf). At last, in October 1929 he registered himself in Wiesbaden (Details unknown). He married Mrs. Martha. (Died 1985). They had one son, Micha. In the third Reich they fled into exile [1933 to Palestine]. He died in Tel-Aviv in 1975." (Josef Zur, translator)

329. Isobel C. Herzstein was born on 17 Nov 1909 in Clayton, New Mexico.[36,361] She died on 10 Jun 2005 in Albuquerque, New Mexico.[196] Source [NMJ][360] states: "The New Mexico Jewish Historical Society sadly notes the passing of Isobel Herzstein Lord, a daughter of the most important Jewish Pioneer family in northeastern New Mexico. Isobel was the daughter of Simon and Maud Edwards Herzstein. Her father was the proprietor of Herzstein's Ready-to-Wear, Clayton's premier men's clothing store, which drew customers from all over the surrounding countryside and as far away as Amarillo. Simon came to Clayton to work for his uncle [Simon's father Nachman's brother], Morris Herzstein, who established Clayton's major general mercantile enterprise and planted many of his relatives in northeastern New Mexico. [In the book The Leading Facts of New Mexico History by Ralph Emerson Twitchell it mentions that Morris, his nephews Simon and Herbert Herzstein and Hugo Lowenstein formed H. Herzstein & Company.] Both Simon and Morris were active in Clayton's community affairs and Maud was famous for her formal dinner parties. Isobel was born in 1909 in Clayton and spent her childhood there…She briefly attended a high school in Tarrytown, New York. After starting college in Colorado Springs, Isobel married David Kay Lord in 1927. D.K., as he was always referred to, had been a banjo player and bandleader in his home state of Oklahoma. Simon then arranged for D.K. and Isobel to manage the family owned store in Nara Visa. The parents were devastated when tragedy struck the family when their two beautiful children, David Kay and Deanne, died a year apart (in 1932 and 1933) from strep throat. After her daughter died in 1933, Isobel put down her violin (which she played very well) and never picked it up again. The Lords moved to Clayton from tiny Nara Visa when D.K. went into the oil distribution business. In 1940, their daughter Sharon was born, but worried about her health, the Lords moved to La Jolla, California when D. K. sold his oil business and the family was financially comfortable. About 1947, the Lords relocated to Littleton, Colorado, where they built a beautiful home on twenty acres owned by Simon and Maud, who moved in with them. Isobel played a major role in designing and furnishing the house since she had an artistic flair and excelled in various crafts. She also loved to entertain their family and friends and made large dinner parties for them. The house now serves as the Littleton Museum. In 1956, the Lords (including Simon and Maud) moved to Albuquerque, because D.K. returned to the oil distribution business (he also owned a number of gas stations) in New Mexico and spent increasing amounts of time there. Isobel occupied herself with her crafts, volunteering at one of the city's hospitals and working as a real estate broker. D. K. passed away in the 1970s. Isobel's health began to decline in the early 1990s. Her daughter Sharon of Albuquerque, a niece Linda Schwartz and three Herzstein nephews, David, Robert and Sigmund Jr, survive her. The author thanks Sharon Lord and Robert Herzstein for providing very useful information for this obituary."

She emigrated in 1946/47 from to Valparaiso, Chile.[148,209] She died in 1992 in Frankfurt, Germany.[148] Source [JWW][209] gives the place of death as Wiesbaden, Germany. Source [HW][283] said that Walter and Betty moved from Chile (living for a short time in New York) to Wiesbaden, Germany. Her original given name was Bertha or Berta.[148,209] According to source [MKM][324], Betty's cousin Leni told to her daughter, Mary, that "Betty…went to Russia after the Revolution, had a love affair with a Russian, and then came back to Germany where she went to university and studied for a Ph.D., though never wrote a dissertation."

She was married to Walter Russ in 1930.[55,148] According to source [HW][283] Betty and Walter were not married until sometime in the 1940s in Chile. Walter Russ died in Frankfurt, Germany in a Jewish home for the aged.[283] Source [JWW][209] states: "Betty died in Wiesbaden, but I don't remember the year...Walter also died in the same city some time thereafter, but we heard that he probably had Alzheimer's Disease and died in a nursing home…I remember meeting them both when they were on a visit here…I do remember that Walter had a great sense of humor, as he said he'd probably set off all the alarms when he had to go through the metal detectors at the airport with the metal pins in his leg!" He emigrated from Germany to Chile.[209]

352. Ernest Waldheim was born on 25 Oct 1904 in Nörde, Germany.[55,148,196] He was the Owner of a shoe store between 1930 and 1934 in Hemer, Germany.[148,209] He was a Manufacturer of window dressing items between 1934 and 1938 in Hemer, Germany.[148,209] He was arrested on Christallnacht (10 Nov 1938) and sent to KZ Oranienburg and released on 7 Dec 1938.[284] He emigrated on 24 Dec 1938 from Germany to Holland.[209] He emigrated in Mar 1940 from Holland to Belgium, then to the United States.[209] He died on 27 Dec 1972 in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.[55,196] His original given name was Ernst Philipp.[55,148] Source [JWW][209] relates the following: "… Ernst…was born in a very small town called Nörde. To give you an idea of how small it was, he used to joke and say there were 2,000 legs in the town, but 1,000 of them belonged to cows. His sister, Berta (known to us as Betty), was just a year older. The Waldheim family relocated in 1911 to Hemer in Westphalia, where they opened the largest shoe store in the town. Sometime in the 1920s, the Steuer family moved to Gevelsberg, and also opened up a shoe store. Gevelsberg and Hemer are not very far from each other, approximately 30 miles. Being in the same type of retail business, it was not surprising that Ilse and Ernst became acquainted. Ernst's mother, Sophie, died in 1927 and his father, Abraham, died in early 1930…Ernst inherited the shoe store, and he and Ilse were married June 15, 1930. Their first son, Hans (Harry) was born May 9, 1931 and Manfred (Manny) came along 4 years later on June 19, 1935. In June, 1934, the boycott of Jewish businesses forced Ernst to close the store. In August of that year, the Waldheims moved to Ostenschlahstrasse 28, and took over a small factory that was built right onto the house. There Ernst manufactured window-dressing items for show windows. (He sold the shoe store and house in 1936.) On November 10, 1938, Ernst was arrested and was taken to Sachsenhausen Concentration Camp, where he was held prisoner until December 7, 1938…While Ernst was incarcerated, there were threats of blocking any plans for emigration if Jewish properties were not sold in a timely manner, and there was talk that soon Jews would not even be allowed to sell any properties. This, coupled with the fact that Ilse was led to believe that Ernst would be released if they complied, led her to immediately seek a buyer for the small factory. The formal document was signed by Ernst on December 3rd and he was released several days later without any grounds being given. Taken back to Hemer, he hid in the cellar of their house, as he knew it was possible they could come after him again. With the help of the Underground, in which he was very active, he fled on December 24th to Holland. He remained in a Relocation or Displaced Person Camp in Holland, as Holland was not yet at war with Germany. In March, 1940, after 15 months in the camp, he made his way to Belgium and was able to board a Holland-America ship to the United States. On November 14, 1938, an order came from Berlin barring Jewish children from attending German schools…As he could no longer attend school in Hemer, in April, 1939 Hans was sent to a Jewish boarding school in Cologne, which had been converted from an orphanage. He remained there until January 1941, shortly before leaving for America. Meanwhile, the Waldheims and Steuers were allowed to remain in the house. Ilse was forced to work at a mattress factory from May, 1939 until December, 1940. Literally at the last hour, Ilse and the children went to Berlin to get their visas and passports in February, 1941. Thus, they traveled legally by train from Berlin through France and Spain to Lisbon, Portugal. After about 3 weeks in Lisbon, they left on the SS Serpa Pinto in March. It took two weeks to get to New York, as they had to stop in Bermuda to outfit the ship with Portuguese emblems. On its voyage back, the ship was blown up and sunk!..."

He was married to Ilse Steuer (daughter of Albert Steuer and Julie Wyngardt) on 15 Jun 1930 in Gevelsberg, Germany.[55,285] Ilse Steuer was born on 15 Sep 1904 in Köln, Germany.[55,148] She emigrated on 8 Feb 1941 from Germany to New York, New York.[286] She died on 27 Nov 1993 in Houston, Texas.[196,148] She was a slave laborer from May, 1939 to December, 1940.[287] Ernest Waldheim and Ilse Steuer had the following children:

353. Harry Reinsberg was born on 17 Jan 1913 in Quakenbrück, Germany.[55] He emigrated on 1 May 1935 from Holland to the USA.[55] His German passport is stamped Amsterdam, May 1, 1935 with Kansas City handwritten next to the stamp. Leo Loeb, a relative in Kansas City was his sponsor. Source [JS][51] notes that a receipt for passage on the S.S. Black Condor from Rotterdam to New York is dated May 2, 1935. He died on 10 Sep 1991 in Chicago, Illinois.[51] He was a Sales Representative for men's wear from the 1940s to the 1980s.[51] His original given name was Hans.[55] A letter written from Harry to source [JS][51] notes that when Harry was in his second year of medical school (1933) at the University of Würzburg, his Jewish fraternity was placed under "house arrest" by the Nazis. "...the uniformed Nazi students surrounded our fraternity house and took it over with their pistols forcing all of us against the wall. We thought they would kill us right then. But they searched us and they found a letter from my mother in my pocket in which she wrote: Please destroy the 2 newspapers from the Saar region after you have read them. In those days the Saar region was still under control of the League of Nations and they could print what was actually going on in Germany, while the newspapers....only printed Nazi propaganda. It was of course 'verboten' to buy those papers from the Saar. So they sent two tall Nazis to escort me to my room, which I had rented from a Jewish widow near our fraternity house. Fortunately, these two Nazis were as dumb as they were tall. They did not find the many papers I had accumulated about the crazy Nazi racial philosophy, nor the lectures I had written down and had given on this subject at Jewish organizations. [Harry told his daughter that he returned to his apartment only moments before Nazi soldiers banged on his door and demanded entry. In those few moments, he managed to stuff subversive literature he had sitting in plain view into the lavatory tank. The rest of the subversive pamphlets were hidden in a travel trunk under an insert. The soldiers opened the trunk but saw only tissue paper and did not realize to lift the shelf.] Anyway, I was placed under 'Hausarest." That same night I left Würzburg and went underground. When I was sure that the Nazis were not looking for me I returned to Quakenbrück. After some difficulty I received permission to emigrate (sic.) to Holland, where I wanted to complete my medical studies at the University of Amsterdam. At that time my 1st cousin Erich Reinsberg and his two sisters...were running a ladies garment plant in Amsterdam...I did not continue my med. studies because they told me at the university that I would never be allowed to practice medicine in Holland. I staid (sic.) in Amsterdam until 1935 learning the electrical repair and installation trade. In May of '35 I received an affidavid (sic.) of support from my father's cousin Leo Loeb in Kansas City, U.S.A. On my way there, I stopped in Chicago where the son of my grandfather's brother lived – Milton Reynolds... Milt took a liking for me and I became an operator of his "print-a-sign" machine getting a job with a Chicago chain of department stores. With his help I brought over my parents and my young brother Fred..."

Manhattan.[212] At the urging of his brother Harry[51], he and his parents were sponsored by Milton Reynolds.[289] He died on 4 Jul 1997 in Van Nuys, California.[289] He was Vice President of Reynolds Printasign Company in Pacoima, California.[51] His original given name was Fritz Theodore.[55] His original surname was Reinsberg.[223] According to source [MR][223]: While working in Chicago for Milton Reynolds in the late 1940s, Fred was asked to change his name from Reinsberg to Reynolds by Milton after Milton's son Jim had moved to California "so that....'a Reynolds would always continue with the business.'" According to source [BBR][289] "We changed our name in 1952 after .... Fred was honorably discharged from his 18-month tour of duty during the Korean crisis. During those months, Milton realized how much he missed Fred in the business, offered him a nice promotion, and asked him to change his name..."

Right after I was born, my mother was still groggy when a nurse asked her my name. She was still learning to use English on a regular basis because they'd only been in America a few months, and said "Margaret" instead of "Margriet" because she thought they were just having a conversation and she didn't think the nurse would understand Margriet. I was also supposed to share my mother's middle name, Jeanette, but my mother didn't mention that because in Holland parents bring their babies to the town hall after they're born to register their names officially. She didn't realize the information she gave was for the birth certificate. So... I am, Margaret instead of Margriet Jeanette."
